Our Vision

A space rooted in community, creativity, and intentional growth. At The Ellis Collective, we believe environments shape experience. That's why we've built a space that doesn't just host events — it nurtures them. We're here to foster connection, empower our members and community, and elevate bold ideas. We're more than just a venue—we're a catalyst for intentional experiences.

Meet Candice

Founder & Visionary

The Ellis Collective was inspired by the need for an intentional, community-rooted space that reflects the culture, excellence, and drive of local changemakers. Founded by Candice Ellis — a leader in business, training, and community impact — the Collective offers an elevated yet accessible environment to host, teach, connect, and grow.

Purpose & Values

- To provide an inclusive, polished space that supports small business owners, nonprofit leaders, and professionals in sharing knowledge and building community.
- To support training and development through affordable rentals, educational workshops, and curated experiences.
- To amplify underrepresented voices in business by creating space for them to shine and lead.

The Ellis Collective is built on four core values:

- Collaboration – We believe big ideas are better when built together.
- Creativity – Every space is designed to spark new perspectives.
- Belonging – We hold space for all identities, voices, and missions.
- Innovation – Our community thrives by thinking ahead and leaning in
